Cape Town Walk To Freedom

Specialist Cultural Day Tour

| Days | Daily | 08h00-17h00 |
| Departure | Sea Point Hotels | 08h00 |
| | Waterfront Hotels | 08h15 |
| | Downtown Hotels | 08h30 |
| Duration | 9 hours | |
| Entrance included | District Six Museum, guided township walk & Robben Island. | |
| Rate | R920 per person (scheduled) R2035 per person (private) | |

This is a tour which delves deep into South Africa's political past and opens up doors to communities not always encountered in the city itself. You will start off at the colourful Bo-Kaap, home to the Malay community and one of the oldest residential areas in the city, before crossing over to District Six, once a vibrant Coloured neighbourhood, before forced removals under the Group Areas Act of Apartheid turned it into a desolate wasteland. The museum makes for interesting viewing. Then visit one of the townships – created specifically for black residents under Apartheid. Join local community workers on a walk about through the township, meeting many friendly faces en route and also seeing the changes being brought about here with the advent of the New South Africa. Stop at one of the many successful projects operated by uThando, a non-profit organisation dedicated to the upliftment of communities.

Return to the city and board a ferry to Robben Island. Here you will be joined by a local guide – someone who spent time on the island during the Apartheid years – thus able to give a personal and often moving account of time spent there. You will also learn something about the island's most famous prisoner – Nelson Mandela – and see his cell where he spent nearly 27 years of his life.

Return to the Waterfront where you will be dropped off at your hotel.

Note: Half Day Walk to Freedom is as above but does not include Robben Island in the afternoon. Please note that the actual touring on Robben Island is not private but is part of a group.

uThando Community Projects Tour

Specialist Community Involvement Tour

| Days | Mon - Fri | 09h00–13h00 |
| Duration | 3-4 hours | |
| Entrance included | Donation to uThando charities | |
| Rate | R750 per person (scheduled) * non-commissionable R2250 per person (private) * non-commissionable | |

Uthando South Africa is our chosen charity in South Africa and serves as an umbrella for a wide range of highly effective community projects across the country. In order to showcase these and also to offer a glimpse into the work being done to uplift the disadvantaged in South Africa, they offer daily scheduled excursions visiting the sprawling townships around Cape Town, with particular emphasis on visiting at least three of the social development projects being funded through Uthando.

The Uthando tours offer a unique and authentic introduction to the social problems confronting so many millions of South Africans, while also illustrating the innovative and inspirational ways in which they are being handled by these marginalised and destitute communities. Very importantly, the projects are not treated as tourist attractions and the tours are designed in such a way as to educate, inform and inspire while also respecting the dignity and privacy of the people concerned. The projects are, after all, places where people live, work and in most cases, just survive.

You will be collected at your hotel in the Cape Town area and dropped off at the end of the trip. A portion of the tour cost goes directly to uThando charities.

This morning we journey to Groote Schuur Hospital, home of the world's first heart transplant by Dr Christiaan Barnard. The 2-hour tour, led by one of the original medical team, offers an intriguing account of this incredible piece of our South African history. It's got all the drama of 60's South Africa - pioneering medical work on a shoestring budget, legal twists, apartheid challenges, personal accounts of the donors and recipients and following the success of the operation, professional jealousy, beautiful women and international recognition. The original operating theatres are impeccably maintained and the rare access to the hospital footage and records is fascinating.

We then head into the colourful Bo-Kaap to explore the city by foot. So much about a country and a culture is expressed through its cuisine. In South Africa much of the cuisine is home cuisine and difficult to sample. As such we'll explore the back streets to find the tastes that represent our rainbow nation. We walk the streets of Cape Town and experience its history, its people and its culinary delights. En-route we stop to taste a mixture of traditional food, South African street food and visit some artisanal foodie and coffee shops. You'll get to taste delights such as Falooda - a traditional Muslim Rose milkshake, samosas and chilli bites (dhaltjies), bobotie pies and bunny chows, all the while interacting with the very people who make up our proud heritage. We'll return to your hotel late afternoon.

Your complete cultural experience of Cape Town - the old and the new, the then and the now!

Experience the historic heart of the city on foot in the morning, while learning about South Africa's dramatic history and combine this with an authentic township experience in the afternoon. We start the day in the historic old city where we set the scene for our story of Dutch and British rule, slavery and apartheid, freedom and democracy. We'll meander through the Company's Garden, Grand Parade, the City Hall and Castle of Good Hope, lively Greenmarket Square, now home to a bustling African curio market and the Slavery precinct which includes the Slave Lodge and Church Square. We also learn the story of District Six and visit the Bo-Kaap (Malay Quarter) with its colourful houses and quaint cobbled stone streets.

In the afternoon, you will meet the local residents, understand their hardships and triumphs and be inspired by their sense of community. To ensure your encounter is genuine and true, registered tour guides who are either resident in the townships or intimately involved in township life conduct our township tours.

The private tour includes return transfers from city based hotels.

'Colourful', 'Vibrant', 'Busy', 'Welcoming'.... just some of the adjectives that describe township life!

This township experience is about meeting with the locals and sharing experiences on an engaging, rewarding and uplifting tour where you will be left feeling inspired by the pride of the communities living in the township of Langa. For an authentic township cultural experience you need to walk, to hear, smell, touch and taste. You will be escorted by a local guide on a journey of discovery, exploring the daily lives and culture of the Xhosa people. In Langa, the streets are the lifeblood of the community. It is in the streets where the kids play soccer, where locals trade, walk, socialise and gather.

We recommend doing an afternoon township tour, where you will have the opportunity to meet with the children from Happy Feet Youth Project. A charity initiative started in 2007, it is aimed at providing townships kids with positive role models and a sense of "belonging" through dance, in an environment where crime is often a strong attraction.

Your morning tour includes lunch at the famous Mzoli's, Guguletu (weekdays), Cape Town's most popular authentic township eating experience. Here, South Africans of all creeds and colours meet to enjoy a traditional braai (barbecue) with plenty of cheers and chats. Weekends in particular are very popular with locals who dress to impress, let down their hair and enjoy delicious fare! A home-hosted lunch is included over weekends and public holidays over the busiest periods and to avoid the long queues.

The private tour includes return transfers from city based hotels.

We start the day with a visit to the District 6 Museum in Cape Town. This is Cape Town's apartheid museum. This museum represents the memories of a community on the outskirts of Cape Town where over 60 000 people were forcefully removed from the mid 1960's to the mid 1980's. This visit allows us the opportunity to discuss what led to apartheid in this country and to discuss how it was implemented. From here we travel to Langa Township to cook at a small cookery school that provides the local residents with the skills needed to get jobs in the kitchens of the top hotels in Cape Town.

This is one of only a handful of full time cooking schools based in a Cape Township. The students are not from privileged homes and as such the fees charged cannot be very high. Money needs to be raised in order to provide these kids with tuition, which is done through a variety of entrepreneurial ventures. They have created a restaurant out of shipping containers and here they serve traditional African cuisine to the local community and to visitors. This facility is also used to cater for functions in the local area, as well as for the cooking classes and brings much needed revenue into the school. A visit to the school and restaurant is a unique opportunity for you to interact with a community initiative that is really working. Here you learn about African and Xhosa culture and cuisine; have the opportunity to interact with the locals and for you to also leave your mark on your journey to Cape Town. Your visit means that you are contributing in a small way to this project. 90% of the graduates secure a job (incredible in a country with an approximate 40% unemployment rate). Highlights on your half day tour include a welcome drink of ginger beer while you listen to a talk on African cuisine and culture; a hands-on cooking lesson where you learn to cook dishes like pap (similar to polenta), chakalaka, samp and a typical meat stew before settling down to enjoy your dishes at the restaurant.

After a refreshment stop, we return to the start of the ride and drive into the centre of town for the start of our historical walk. Start where it all began, at the original Cape shoreline. Start with a drive down the peninsular, towards the Boulders penguin colony, where you enjoy a visit with these little birds before the crowds arrive. Well-placed wooden walkways allow visitors to see these delightful little creatures in their natural habitat without invading their privacy too much. Continue to the Cape of Good Hope Nature Reserve at the tip of the peninsula.

Following the hike, we continue to the point, where we visit the old lighthouse and the Cape of Good Hope.

Another go-as-you-please day that can be tailored by our resident wine expert, is an outing created exclusively for families with little ones in tow.

Take in the sites and spectacular scenery of the Winelands with your private guide as you make your way through superb mountain ranges, vineyards and Cape Dutch homesteads. For families that love being out in the open, surrounded by beautiful scenery and enjoy doing things together, there is much to offer with a selection of farms geared towards wine lovers with kids. Today we sample a selection of some of the finest wine estates and top-notch 'family-friendly' estates. From sessions that include a tasty food pairing - think chocolate and cheese - to ones preceded by a Segway tour, there's definitely something to suit every age (and palate).

With award-winning wine and delicious food on offer, a wine tasting at Spier is one of the most popular options in the Stellenbosch area. Here, the chocolate and wine pairing is a particular highlight which, as the name suggests, sees the farm's signature Méthode Cap Classique and Creative Block blends complemented by specially curated chocolates. Children are offered a special grape juice tasting and for something totally different, the 2-hour Segway tour (additional cost) is highly recommended. Not only is a ride on one of these two-wheeled, self-balancing electric vehicles a whole lot of fun, but it also offers a chance to experience the farm's vineyards and pastures. Middleveld in the Devon Valley is genuinely relaxed and down to earth - a great antidote to stuffy wine farms. Go for the boerebraai (traditional South African barbecue) where kids receive a special basket with treats including a 'stokbrood' - a bread they can cook themselves over the open flames. Little ones are encouraged to run wild on the lawns and feed the farm animals - look out for the wallabies - and no-one will look twice at muddy feet. With an outdoor wooden deck and a generous fireplace, Mulderbosch's tasting room can facilitate tastings in both the warmer and colder months. But what makes a session at the vineyard truly special is that you can pair its full range of wines (up to five per session) with delicious, thin-based, wood-fired pizzas. Alternatively, if you are just in the mood for a nibble, you can opt for a charcuterie or cheese board.

At Laborie's Harvest restaurant in Paarl, you're guaranteed an excellent meal with a table near the jungle gym keeping the little ones busy, while the older kids (and their parents) will enjoy playing boules on the lawns. A mere 45-minute drive from Cape Town, Spice Route's delightful village set-up in Paarl is the perfect day out for the whole family. Aside from fabulous restaurants, there's a smorgasbord of tempting things to do, see and taste! There's craft brewery that offers an ultra-slick beer tasting, Wilderer distillery for grappa, an art gallery, a glass-blowing studio, a biltong bar...and more! The most popular activity is the guided chocolate tasting at DV Artisan Chocolate. Here a tutored 'adult-version' wine pairing is highly recommended although the kids will prefer the shorter 25-minute chocolate tasting.

The Franschhoek Motor Museum offers visitors a special opportunity to look back at more than 100 years of motoring history with its unique and exciting collection of vehicles, motorcycles, bicycles and memorabilia in the magnificent setting of L'Ormarins. The museum's collection exceeds 220 vehicles - ranging from a 1898 Beeston motor tricycle to a 2003 Ferrari Enzo supercar - and more than 80 exhibits will be on view at any one time, displayed in four de-humidified halls with a total floor area of 2700 m², and presented in chronological order.

This day is yours to tailor and craft as you choose. Enjoy lunch at one of the family-friendly restaurants or estates (lunch to be settled directly but wine tastings included) and you will return to your hotel late this afternoon.

When most people think about Mandela and Cape Town they don't see beyond Robben Island, but Cape Town has a captivating Mandela story to tell as it provided the setting for the unfolding of a series of significant and secretive meetings that led to the surprise release of Mandela and the unbanning of the ANC in February 1990. This 2.5 hour walk, which covers approximately 2km of the historic and cultural heart of Cape Town, is rich in elements of human drama with key players being a president, a chief of prison, a spy and a prisoner.

This delightful drive winds its way through superb mountain ranges, vineyards and Cape Dutch homesteads. Your first stop is Stellenbosch, the second oldest town in South Africa, with canal lined avenues, and magnificent examples of Cape Dutch architecture. Simon van der Stel was the first settler to spot the opportunities offered by the lush area between the two branches of the Eerste Rivier, setting up camp here in 1679. The fertile valley was soon settled on by farmers who planted the region's first vines a few short years later - and today, the valley boasts more private cellars than any other Western Cape region (with over 100 open to the public).

But there's more to Stellenbosch than wineries. This leafy student town is home to some of the country's top restaurants and award-winning producers. Schoon De Companje is famous for its superb ciabatta, sourdough bread (sprinkled with chocolate or cinnamon), rye and breadsticks. While you're there, grab a coffee and browse the wine counter, artisan ice cream and charcuterie stands. It's a great spot to pick up an interesting gift or two. Stellenbosch locals are spoilt for choice with a variety of top quality delis like Wild Peacock, for truffle oil and Valrhona chocolate, Joostenberg Deli and Oom Samie se Winkel, an old-style trading store stocked with interesting preserves and spices.

You'll then make your way to Waterford Wine Estate for a wine safari. Jump on board the modified Landrover, and enjoy the drive through the vineyards of the scenic Waterford Estate. Stopping at various points along the way, you will learn all about the various types of grapes, and techniques used to make Waterford Wines, finally stopping at the wooden deck to enjoy a wine tasting with a difference, set right amidst the vineyards and with spectacular views.

Onward to Franschhoek over the scenic Helshoogte Pass (also known as the R310), one of the most travelled routes in the Winelands, linking the wine districts of Stellenbosch and Franschhoek and passing through the little farming villages of Kylemore, Johannesdal and Pniel.

Hands down, one of the most celebrated wine and food destinations in South Africa, the beautiful Franschhoek Valley, was established by French Huguenot refugees in 1688, and is a captivating blend of European charm and spectacular verdant scenery. The main street is dotted with high-end boutiques, fine dining restaurants, art galleries and cafés, and it is the perfect setting for lunch (own account). After lunch take a stroll through village and stop off for a further wine tasting at one of the renowned estates in this area before your return to your hotel.

So much about a country and a culture is expressed through its cuisine. In South Africa much of the cuisine is a home cuisine and to get a taste you really need to search hard. As such this tour aims to combine the history of this country and city through exploring the back streets to find the tastes that represents all of the rainbow nation. Today you'll walk the streets of Cape Town and experience its history, its people and its culinary delights. En-route you'll stop to taste a mixture of traditional food, South African street food and to visit some artisanal foodie and coffee shops. During the walk we will also taste some of the following items: African Soul food: pap, samp & beans, a meat stew and vetkoek; Falooda - a traditional Muslim Rose Milkshake; a gourmet bunny chow to get a little taste of Indian Cuisine; coffee from one of the micro artisan coffee roasters in the city; bobotie pies - this is a modern take on the traditional Bobotie dish which both the Cape Malay group and white Afrikaner group refer to as their traditional dish.

Please note that this is a walking tour and involves a variety of food and drink tastings en-route (please have a light or no breakfast at the hotel).

Today we head into the Winelands to South Africa's 2nd oldest town, Stellenbosch. It was Simon van der Stel who was the first settler to spot the opportunities offered by the lush area between the two branches of the Eerste Rivier for the Cape colony, setting up camp here while on a tour of inspection in 1679. The fertile valley was soon settled on by farmers who planted the region's first vines a few short years later.

Three hundred odd years on, the valley boasts more private cellars than any other Western Cape region (with over 100 open to the public) and the country's oldest wine route. But there's more to Stellenbosch than wineries. This leafy student town is home to some of the country's top restaurants and award-winning producers.

Here you will join your culinary guide as she leads you through the historic heart of Stellenbosch. You'll have a chance to sample some traditional cape food and wine (like biltong, Bobotie, koeksisters and melktert) while meeting a host of colourful characters en-route! You'll enjoy a heritage lunch platter at the oldest hotel in the country and visit the oldest shop in town.

We then continue onward over the scenic Helshoogte Pass, to Franschhoek, founded by French Huguenots over 350 years ago, and widely regarded as the culinary capital of South Africa. Its beautiful setting and café lined streets will charm you. We stop at several renowned wine estates to sample some of their award winning wines before heading back to Cape Town.

Discover Constantia - From Above and Beyond

Enjoy an afternoon of fine food, wine and spectacular scenery on this exclusive tour from Cape Town to Constantia, one of South Africa's premier wine-tasting destinations and culinary hotspots. On this tour of the Winelands we combine the best of the Cape with a scenic helicopter transfer and an insightful afternoon tour, escorted by a knowledge guide.

Nestled just a cork's throw away from the city centre, the affluent and lush Constantia Valley is the perfect choice if you're based in the city and don't want to venture too far for wine tasting. It also happens to be the oldest wine-making region in the country (it was established in 1685) and has become synonymous with premium, award-winning reds and whites, especially Sauvignon Blanc. Constantia is ideal for a one-day tasting tour as the whole route is only 7.25km from one end to the other, affording the opportunity to see a good mix of new-age boutique wineries and historic, Cape Dutch-style estates.

You will be collected from your hotel late morning today and transferred to the V&A Waterfront to board your state-of-the-art helicopter for a 12 minute private flight* across the city and over the Southern Suburbs to Constantia. Travelling inland on the most direct route you will land at the beautiful Steenberg Estate to sample prized wines and a gourmet lunch (for own account) at the estate's award-winning and contemporary restaurant, Catharina's. A chic space designed for modern dining, the restaurant boasts spectacular vineyard and mountain views.

After lunch, you will be collected from the restaurant by your private guide who will offer further insight into this diverse region. Visit the state-of-the-art cellar at Steenberg, completed in 1996, with the capacity to produce around 70,000 cases. The cellar also boasts a modern vinoteque, where bottled wines can be kept under ideal conditions until ready to be enjoyed.

The rest of the afternoon is yours to delve into a few more estates (max 2-3 depending on time available). Some other notable Constantia wine farms for tastings include Buitenverwachting, Beau Constantia (it claims stunning views from a world-class glass tasting room) and Silvermist (for 100% organic wine). As part of the original vineyard that in the 18th century produced "Constantia", prized throughout Europe by the leaders and aristocracy of the time, Klein Constantia has helped to reclaim its former glory by initiating the revival of this famous sweet wine. Vin de Constance, is probably the most famous and admired wine produced on this estate and is a re-creation of the legendary sweet Constantia. A superb way to end your day off on a sweet note!

Upon conclusion of our tour, we travel via Hout Bay and the Atlantic Seaboard back to the city.

For a wildly scenic alternative to the inland helicopter transfer, you have the option to take in the incredible aerial views and fly along the Atlantic coast past Green Point, Sea Point; the beaches of Clifton, Camps Bay, the Twelve Apostles mountain range and the exclusive neighborhood of Llandudno through to Hout Bay. From here, you will veer across to Constantia and touch down at Steenberg Estate. An additional supplement of R1459 per person applies.*

This tailor-made tour by your resident wine expert is designed for the visitor who would like to experience and taste some of the other delectable delights that are also on offer in the winelands area in addition to some of the fantastic wines. The tour is geared not only for the tasting but for the educational value as well as learning about each product that you are introduced to. Your day can include Paarl, with its imposing Afrikaans Language Monument and of course the Franschhoek Valley.

Hands down, one of the most celebrated wine and food destinations in South Africa, the beautiful Franschhoek Valley, which was established by French Huguenot refugees in 1688, is a captivating blend of European charm and spectacular verdant scenery. The town itself is well worth a visit, with the main street dotted with high-end boutiques, fine dining restaurants and art galleries. The valley is renowned for making excellent versions of almost any varietal and if sparkling wine appeals, there's also a dedicated Cap Classique route here. We recommend Solms Delta (for a Cape food & wine pairing), Haute Cabrière (see a sabrage show on Saturdays) and Babylonstoren (it boasts a breathtaking eight-acre garden).

Perhaps most well known as the home of commercially popular winery Fairview and its famed goats, Paarl is the slightly more rural, covert sibling of Stellenbosch and Franschhoek. That said, it's also one of the most innovative wine regions in the Western Cape - it's responsible for creating the world's first white Pinotage and bottling SA's first Bordeaux-style red blend. The more than 28 farms that make up the district are spread out around the iconic pearl-shaped Paarl Rock (the town takes its name from this mountain). Spice Route, Nederburg and Glen Carlou (Kleine Draken is worth a visit for kosher wines) are some of the wine farms worth visiting for tastings in the area.

If there's one wine region everyone knows, it's the Stellenbosch wine route. Sprawling out around the old university town of Stellenbosch, this vast, pretty locale is the most commercial and well-established of all wine destinations in South Africa (in fact, it was the first wine territory to establish a coordinated wine route). For a little sparkle to tantalise the taste buds, the Villiera Cap Classique and Sally Williams Nougat Pairing Experience is a must, where four MCC Sparkling Wines are paired with a decadent nougat range.

From cheese tasting, to chocolate, biltong and olives tastings, this day is yours to tailor and craft as you choose. Enjoy lunch at one of the top restaurants or estates (lunch to be settled directly but wine tastings included) and you will return to your hotel late this afternoon.

Cape Town is a hotbed of cutting-edge design and with its relatively low rentals, the city centre attracts a varied and quirky retail offering, from individually-owned boutiques stocking hand-made garments to high-end African art. One-way Long Street (which becomes two-way Kloof Street as it clammers up the mountain slope) is a good starting point, though happening Bree Street (running parallel to Long Street) is being transformed into a décor and shopping mecca littered with independent boutique merchants.

Bree Street favourites include South Africa Market or "SAM" for short, situated above the bustling restaurant and fashion district on Bree in an elevated loft-like space. Designed to appeal to locals and tourists alike, the market has an open and stylish feel and showcases everything from homeware to clothing by a host of rising local stars. Fashionable and edgy leather goods designer, Missibaba and London-based jewellery designer Kirsten Goss, have joined forces at a heavenly and oh-so-pretty boutique just a few doors down to bring you the best of South African luxury accessories. You simply cannot leave Cape Town without a beautifully hand-crafted statement bag or a piece of contemporary jewellery. Another Bree Street wonder, Skinny laMinx showcases owner, designer and illustrator, Heather Moore's wonderful textile and design work - all professionally printed in Cape Town on an array of cushion covers, tea towels, tableware, bags, aprons and more! Stable, just around the corner on Loop Street, is a collaborative exhibition space making local design, art and artisan items easily accessible.

A kilometre from Cape Town's city centre, Woodstock used to be home to more textile factories than fashion outlets. But in recent years this industrial area with its stupendous mountains views has changed dramatically. The transformation of the Old Biscuit Mill into a hub of cafés and creativity led the way for further regeneration in the area and The Woodstock Exchange has brought even more fashion and design to the area with a collection of 'workshops-cum-boutiques', cafés and collectives housed under one roof. Mosey around the lanes here and you're likely to walk away with some truly unique finds. The Woodstock Exchange reflects how Woodstock is growing in stature as Cape Town's design hub with many of its boutiques occupied by young entrepreneurs - and many of these spaces fulfil a dual role of retail shop as well as workshop space... take a sneak peak behind a screen and you may just find a designer at work. Designs on offer vary from arts to clothing, jewellery, collectibles, homeware, object design, furniture and the like. Look out for Pedersen + Lennard, a South African company focused on well-made products with a simple aesthetic.

The Woodstock Foundry is the most recent addition where light and open space blend with original features in a historic building to create an exciting, creative for the likes of The Lobby Hair, Selah, O.live, John Vogel furniture design, Dear Rae jewellery, Lauren Fowler and a host of others.

There is no substitute to discovering a city and its shops with a local expert and with limited time and so much to see and buy, the inner-city shopping hub is best discovered in the company of your own personal shopper. Our local expert has her finger on the pulse when it comes to discovering the hidden gems of the Cape Town shopping world and she will tailor your tour based on your specific interests.

Saturday's and Sunday's are notoriously bad days for shopping in South Africa and we recommend keeping these days free for site seeing. That said, if shopping over the weekend cannot be avoided, The Watershed at the V&A Waterfront is your go-to-place to stock-up on locally designed goods. Beautifully displayed, curated and styled, the space has a contemporary, industrial feel and features well-known labels such as Mungo & Jemima (for local street-fashion), Dark Horse (leather-goods and furniture) and Pichulik (super-cool, designer jewellery) to newer, lesser-known names and a selection of curios. Whilst the focus in the past has been on expensive, international labels only, the Watershed is home to more than 150 local tenants - from ceramics and homeware, to jewellery, clothing and accessories - there really is plenty to see (and buy). So, not only is this a wonderful platform for designers to exhibit and sell their products, but it's also super convenient.

You will be picked up this morning from your hotel and transferred to the launch site in False Bay. Collection is at 06:00 with launch at 07:00. You will join your skipper, a qualified shark expert for a briefing before setting off for Seal Island. Scientists have acknowledged that great white sharks behave differently in False Bay at Seal Island to anywhere else along the South African coastline. This is mostly due to the ideal topographical structure around the island, allowing for stealth and attack and therefore “flying” out of the water after their prey.

On arrival at the island around sunrise you will spend the first 1 - 1.5 hours watching the natural predation activity and trying to get the sharks to breach on the decoy seal. Breaching is spectacular and involves the Great White Shark launching its body clear out of the water to attack fleeing Cape Fur Seals. From around half 9 to 12:00 we will anchor the boat at the island and you will have the opportunity to cage dive should you so wish. You will return to the harbour around 2pm. Refreshments are served on board the boat. You will be transferred back to your hotel in Cape Town.

Pick up is at 06:30 from your hotel for your transfer to the little town of Kleinbaai, close to Hermanus and Gansbaai. After a safety briefing, you board your shark-chaser, the Predator II for the 5-mile voyage to Dyer Island. The island, together with Geyser Rock nearby, is home to 40 000 Cape Fur Seals, the Great White Shark's favourite prey, and the channel which runs between the two is known as Shark Alley. This is where you will anchor - using a specially mixed chum to attract the sharks, you will soon have an opportunity to see them feeding at the surface, alongside the boat. The cage is then lowered and you will be able to witness these incredible hunters of the deep in your wetsuit, protected by galvanised steel mesh. All diving equipment is supplied and only snorkelling experience is required if you want to go down in the cage. A light lunch is served on the boat as well as refreshments and you will have the chance to see seals and whales in season as well as the sharks. Return to land at around 15:00 for your transfer back to your hotel.
